

BREEAM Assessor

Contract: Permanent

Start Date: ASAP

Location: Working from home or in our Chipping Sodbury office

JOB DESCRIPTION

Darren Evans Assessments are experts in sustainability and energy efficiency. We support a broad range of clients across the construction sector to achieve their goals and aspirations.

Due to one of our team moving on, we have a vacancy for a Domestic Energy and Sustainability Consultant to join our friendly team.

We are looking for someone who thrives on helping our customers challenge themselves to do better and see the construction industry evolve. We are proud to have a customer lead culture within the organization. Having the right people who understand our values and culture is vital to ensure our business continues to thrive.

The Role:

The BREEAM Assessor role requires an individual to be able to work proactively with our customers, consulting on and providing support on their BREEAM assessments. The successful candidate will need to have a good understanding of all BREEAM schemes and be comfortable managing multiple different projects. The role will be expansive and influential to the ongoing development of the business and the industry. Can you help shape the future?

Personal qualities:

- Be attentive to our customers' needs. Willing to go above and beyond to ensure expectations are met.
- A creative approach to problem-solving for our customers
- Take ownership and accountability of problems, and opportunities, to make things happen
- Proactively seek continuous learning and personal growth
- Work collaboratively as part of one team
